Escape breathing apparatus for the extreme emergency

The traditional emergency escape breathing device (EEBD) is a basic emergency set to help your employees evacuate in the unlikely event of a hazardous emergency.

Emergencies that are dangerous to life and health do not follow a script.

They are by definition unpredictable. No company should risk the lives of dedicated employees by using inadequate solutions for unexpected emergencies.

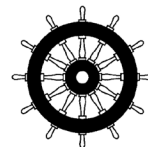

Spiroscape is the first emergency breathing apparatus to overcome the practical limitations of demand and constant flow type systems.

Spiroscape avoids the problems with unpredictable duration, CO<sup>2</sup> build up and heavy cylinder weight.

By utilizing a unique air delivery system Spiroscape limits CO<sup>2</sup> in the hood, minimizes the apparatus weight and provides the user with accurate escape duration.

Emergencies are not predictable, but Spiroscape is.
